To whom it may concern,

I am writing to wholeheartedly recommend Thibaut Lopez for any position in the field of game design. I have had the pleasure of working closely with him for one year at Ebb Software, where he has consistently demonstrated exceptional skills, dedication, and professionalism. During that time he transitioned from an entry-level position to a Junior Game Designer and I had the role of Lead Game Designer.

Thibaut is a remarkable individual who possesses a unique combination of talents that make him an invaluable asset to any team. He is not only a gifted game designer but also an excellent communicator, able to convey complex ideas and concepts with clarity and precision. His ability to articulate his vision and collaborate effectively with team members greatly enhances the creative process.

One of Thibaut's standout qualities is his remarkable organizational skills. He has an innate ability to manage tasks, meet deadlines, and maintain a structured workflow. Moreover, Thibaut is a true team player who thrives in collaborative environments. He actively contributes to brainstorming sessions, respects diverse perspectives, and fosters a positive and inclusive atmosphere within the team. He is a very responsible individual and has the makings of a natural leader.

In addition to his interpersonal and organizational skills, Thibaut possesses a strong aptitude for system and technical design. His ability as a programmer should not be underestimated as it is a valuable asset during prototyping.

Overall, I have been consistently impressed by Thibaut's passion, professionalism, and proficiency in the field of game design. He would be a tremendous asset to any organization seeking a talented and dedicated individual to contribute to their projects and I am confident that he will continue to excel and make significant contributions wherever he goes.

Please feel free to contact me if you require any further information.
